

Program Specific Outcome- Child Development

1. To make students understand about the life span development.
2. To identify and understand the various aspects of adolescence and youth.
3. To make students understand about the normal and abnormal conditions of development throughout life.
4. To understand the significance of statistics and research methodology in the field of human development.
5. To know about the challenges in the management of programmes for children and families.
6. To make the students understand about the need of guidance and counseling in human development.
7. To develop awareness regarding status of women in India and enrich the knowledge of learner on women's significance for our society.
8. To know about the importance of care and education in early childhood.
9. To make students learn about the contribution of different educationist and psychologists.
10. To initiate the sense of self enquiry and introspection among students.